Dear Valued Dear Guests

It is a strange time for all of us now.

Over the past few months, we have witnessed humanity hovering in uncertainty as we all continue to adjust to new norms of living. Yet, despite the challenges, we are also again reminded of the kindness and joy of people as we come together in the face of crisis.

We at JP Pepperdine Group would like to extend our deepest gratitude to all of you who have supported us during this time. Upon news of the island-wide lockdown, we faced the immediate challenges of protecting our restaurant workers and ensuring safety regulations as we shifted our restaurant business models online. Yet, we have also received overwhelming support from our customers. Whether you ordered pick-up or delivery, passed on our name by word-of-mouth, or were eagerly awaiting us to open our doors again, we are humbled by the support that you have shown.

What kept us going during this time is why we started JP Pepperdine Group in the first place: to provide you an extraordinary and unique experience where you can come together and share a great meal.

As we enter a new phase of opening up our dining rooms, we commit to providing you that same extraordinary experience. The JP Pepperdine team will continue to work creatively to provide your favorite dishes, curated from the best and freshest ingredients, served by our tireless team. With our strict safety precautions and social distancing measures, your health remains our greatest priority.

With hand-to-hand transactions decreasing, we have also taken the opportunity to shift our quarterly news publication, Flavours, online. We will be publishing the same updates, promotions, and coupons for our restaurants and food— just virtually. You can also look to our website for more information on how we plan to keep our customers safe during this time.

Once again, thank you for your kindness and support.

Stay safe and eat well.
